

A Level Drama & Theatre Studies

Entry Requirements

To study Drama and Theatre Studies at A level you will need grade 4 or above in GCSE drama or a successful audition piece if GCSE Drama was not studied. An interest in the performing arts and a commitment to learning is vital. It is important that you are interested in gaining a greater understanding of how plays work and that you are keen to be involved in performances

Knowledge & Skills gained:

- Depth of understanding of contemporary and classic plays
- Independence of mind in relation to developing your own ideas.
- Development of a broad range of theatre skills.
- An wealth of understanding of key theatre practitioners, playwrights, theatre movements and performance styles
- Acting skills, confidence , time management and team skills

Complementary Subjects

There are no requirements to study Drama and Theatre Studies along with other specific subjects, but many of our students also take History, Music, Film and English Literature.

Future Opportunities

University - This course lays an excellent foundation for further study of Acting, Directing, English Literature, Performance Art, Creative Writing , Drama and Theatre Studies.

Employment opportunities – Many graduate employers seek to recruit people who are creative thinkers and problem-solvers, confident in presenting, leading inspiring others.

Jobs directly related to a course of study in Drama and Theatre Studies include:

Drama therapist
Community arts worker
Drama practitioner
Costume, set and prop design
Lecturer, Teacher
Youth Theatre Leader
Theatre Director
Theatre Management
Actor, Playwright
Arts administrator